

Clavier-Werke Spring Festival

Featuring guest judge Nicole Narboni

Known for her silvery tone, inspiring master classes, and broad solo and chamber music repertoire, Nicole Narboni is a pianist, teacher, blogger and advocate for broadening access and understanding to classical music in traditionally underserved communities.

Nicole Narboni is an accomplished performer and recitalist both in the U.S. and abroad. As a champion of 20th-century French keyboard music, she frequently performs and presents lectures here and in France on such composers as Jean Francaix, Germaine Tailleferre, Olivier Messaien, Claude Debussy, and Maurice Ravel.

As a recording artist, Nicole Narboni has issued CDs of works by Germaine Tailleferre, Francis Poulenc, Béla Bartók, Paul Bowles, Randall Snyder, and Bohuslav Martinu. Her newest release, a multimedia CD/video project is devoted to the solo piano works of Jean Françaix. Selections from the CD, "The Solo Piano Works of Jean Françaix" have been featured on radio stations throughout the country and Dr. Narboni appeared as a featured guest performer on WFMT's (Chicago) "Impromptu" hosted by Steve Robinson. Nicole Narboni, a Steinway Artist, maintains a private teaching studio in San Antonio, Texas.
